FACTORY BURNED

Large Tobacco Factory Burnt at St. Louis; 600 Employees Escape; Loss about $25,000.

Another Row in Berlin: Anniversary of the Revolution of 1848 Celebrated.

France After Territory in Morocco: A Protectorate Ahmed at; Other European Powers Jealous.

ST. LOUIS, March 18.—At 8:35 o'clock this morning fire started in the upper floor of the Liggett & Myers tobacco factory and a general alarm brought nearly every engine in the city to the scene. At the time the blaze was discovered the factory was filled with about 600 employees including many women and young girls. The building was well equipped with fire engines and stood well above the ground, so was swarming with an excited mass of humanity. The male employees showed remarkable coolness. The men state that no lives were lost and with the exception of slight injuries, no one was injured. Owing to the highly inflammable character of the material which fed upon the fire, the spread with great rapidity and in less than 15 minutes the entire building seven stories was a mass of seething flames which threatened to destroy the large tobacco storage warehouse adjoining which contained thousands of barrels of packed tobacco. Despite the hard work of the fire brigade the flames worked down through the seventh, sixth, fifth and fourth floors, and finally, after 12 hours late and at the postoffice it is said that the mails are reported delayed in all quarters. The horse car and general street traffic was stopped for a short time. Now the snow is melting and many all cars and teams have been "doubled up." Pedestrianism is made most uncomfortable, especially in the downtown streets where the melting snow is so slippery that it is difficult to walk without slipping. People are using sleds and snowshoes to get about. The horses are slipping and mudding much to the discomfort of business men. On the river bay in the east end of the navigation was found a considerable damage owing to the thickness of the snow storm, but so far no serious accident has been reported although many of the Jersey and Staten Island Ferry boats have plowed their way to their docks with considerable difficulty, after experiencing some narrow escapes from collision.

NEW YORK, March 18.—At 9 o'clock last night and this morning there was 12 inches of snow on the ground. Horse car traffic is seriously impeded.

HEAVY SNOW IN NEW YORK.

Trains Delayed, Street Cars Stopped Ferry Boats Endangered, Etc.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The snow which began falling in this city did not cease until about 10 o'clock this morning and it now lies 11 inches on a level. At 11 o'clock the snow was about three hours late and at the postoffice it is said that the mails are reported delayed in all quarters. The horse car and general street traffic was stopped for a short time. Now the snow is melting and many all cars and teams have been "doubled up." Pedestrianism is made most uncomfortable, especially in the downtown streets where the melting snow is so slippery that it is difficult to walk without slipping. THE WESTERN LEAGUE.

April 16 is the Date Set for the Opening Games.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—The Western League association's old session schedule has completed its report which likely to be adopted unanimously. It favors 120 games. The opening game will be played on April 16 and the first series closed on May 30.

The second season will open July 2 and close Sept. 21. Sixty-six games are scheduled in the first division and 74 games in the second.

Ashore.

DEAL BEACH, N. J., March 18.—The bark Windermere, from Milford Haven, Wales, is owned by Captain John G. Smith, bark master, bound for New York. She is a bark master, bound from Milford Haven Jan. 23 for New York. Life-saving station has gone to assist her. The crew of 12 men have succeeded in gaining control of the blackened hull and are now bringing ashore by the life-saving crew. There are still 38 on board. They do not understand how to handle the breeches boat or oars. They are presently accomplished. The life-saving people, however, are instructing them and will probably have all ashore in two hours.

Ashland's Suburban Cars.

ASHLAND, Wis., March 18.—An extensive new public garage is being built for an electric car line around the head of Chequamegon bay, connecting Ashland, Washburn and Bayfield. The Ashland car line is at a bridge across Fish creek. The new company will have over 50 miles of tracks. It is understood that prominent Eastern capitalists are interested in the scheme.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The kaiser was deeply vexed yesterday over the fire at the tobacco storage warehouse adjoining which contained thousands of barrels of packed tobacco. Despite the hard work of the fire brigade the flames worked down through the seventh, sixth, fifth and fourth floors, and finally, after 12 hours late and at the postoffice it is said that the mails are reported delayed in all quarters. The horse car traffic is seriously impeded.

The police, who were watching the process in considerable force, at once made a rush for the shouters, who were mostly young men. The police seized as many as they could, and on arrival proceeded to drag them away. The crowd became indignant and some of the young men appealed to their friends to rescue them, but the police had already arrested all. One of the police had tried to get them to release the captives. The police made a call for aid and a large force which had been in reserve hurried to the scene.

More Rioting in Berlin: Sedition Brought a Charge of the Police.

BERLIN, March 18.—The socialists gathered in thousands and went in procession to Friedrichshain to decorate the burial places of the victims who were massacred by the military on January 18, 1848 when the king and queen of Prussia stood with uncovered heads before the crowd. No disorder attended the procession, but the graves were nicely decorated. One of the police made a call for aid and a large force which had been in reserve hurried to the scene.

MORE LYNCHING IN PROSPECT.

OZARK, Mo., March 18.—News was received here yesterday that a party of white men had lynched a Negro when Bright killed his wife have been all left their homes. A man who lives in the neighborhood with Bright's family says that most of the mob came from the police, who scattered the mob, number of whom were severely hurt. The police took 12 prisoners, who were lodged in the cells for trial on a charge of rioting and sedition.

Thousands of Seals.

PARIS, March 18.—There is the most extraordinary Cape North seal ever seen. The appearance of the seals is greater than ever before. The entire resident population is engaged in catching them and good hauls are being made. It is nearly eight years since the seals appeared off the coast of Greenland. They are thought to have been carried from the ice from Greenland, the mild weather having loosened the ice.

Look Out for Typhus.

CLEVELAND, March 18.—Notwithstanding the fact that the disease is prevalent in the city, it is feared that payment of interest on national obligations will have to be suspended, and that the only choice for creditors is to wait several years for a settlement or compromise by a considerable scaling of the debt.

Policeman Dead of Typhus.

NEW YORK, March 18.—John Pollock, Edward H. O'Connor, of the sanitary squad, died on North Brothers island at 3 o'clock this morning from typhus fever. He took the disease of some of the patients while in the performance of his duty.

Tip of the Week.

U. S. Weather Bureau, Detroit, Mich., March 15.—Glorious fair weather prevails in all sections. The thermometer has risen slightly, only one degree in Duluth, but the temperature is still low zero. Light snow is falling in the North and in the West. The mercury is down to two inches in Cincinnati.

A higher degree of cold in the interior is indicated by the fact that it is not probable, and fair weather will continue to the west.

Yesterday the temperature here reached 20° falling again to 18° this morning.

DULUTH, March 18.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a.m. March 19: Generally cool, with rising temperature.

THE NEW CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICTS.

The legislature of Minnesota, at its session last winter, passed a congressional reapportionment bill, increasing the number of districts from five to seven as required by act of congress, based on the federal census of 1890. The bill was framed by Senator Craig, democrat, of Waseca county, and was deemed so fair to all parties that it passed both houses and received the governor's signature almost without argument, with no opposition, and without a jot or tittle changed. As many interested in state politics have not a map of the new districts at hand, the Herald gives the list of counties, from which any map may be marked for reference:

First district—Houston, Fillmore, Mower, Freeborn, Waseca, Martin, Jackson,
Second district—Faribault, Martin, Jackson, Nobles, Rock, Pipestone, Murray, Cottonwood, Watson, Blue Earth, Nicollet, Brown, Redwood, Lyon, Lincoln, Yellow Medicine, Lac Qui Parle and Chippewa.

Third district—Goodhue, Rice, Le Sueur, Sibley, Pope, Stearns, Benton, Sherburne, Anoka and Wright.

Fourth district—Ramsey, Washington, Chis-ago, Isanti, Kanabec, Pine, Itasca, St. Louis,

Fifth district—Hennepin.

Sixth—Cook, Lake, St. Louis, Itasca, Bel-trami, Hubbard, Cass, Carlton, Aitkin, Crow Wing, Wadena, Todd, Morrison, Mille Lacs, Pine, Stearns, Benton, Sherburne, Anoka and Wright.

Seventh—Kittson, Marshall, Polk, Norman, Clay, Becker, Otter Tail, Wilkins, Traverse, Grand, Douglas, Stevens, Pope, Big Stone, Swift and Kandiyohi.

Thus it can be seen that of the eighty counties in the state, the Sixth, or Duluth district includes twenty, which, by their larger average area, cover fully one half of the great hematite community. The populous part of it, however, is the head of the Iron Range, which is very convenient and accessible, being on the line of the Iron Range, Winnipeg, Northern Pacific, Great Northern and St. Paul & Duluth railroads. The bulk of the population is within the triangle of which Duluth and the Twin Cities are the extreme points.
We were never before so well situated for a rousing campaign at short range, and every indication is that there will be festive glee in the atmosphere next autumn.

The fact that many Liberals and many of the Liberal papers in Canada denounced Mercier, and that their defection aided in his overwhelming defeat, has raised a cry from the friends and accomplices of the boodler against the bolting Liberals. The Montreal Free Press strikes out boldly for an honest party and honest politics. It says:

The men who lifted Mercier into power, and who kept him there until he disgraced them by his actions, were the men who effected his overthrow—the honest men of the party, who preferred clean, economical government under the Conservatives to the methods of Paquet and his friends.

That is good, square doctrine. What the Liberals of Canada need is to clear their camp of boodlers. Then, and not till then, can they expect to reform the Dominion government. For the present they are suffering the consequences of Mercier's crimes. The work of purification is costly, but it is necessary.

The growing of sugar beets in the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment Station last summer was a success in spite of an adverse season. Assistant Chemist Wolf estimates the average cost of raising beets at $2.60 per ton, and the average product at 15 tons per acre.
Prof. Wolf says,

Before we can conceivably ask anyone to invest a dollar in the construction of factories, however, there should be some real assurance that people are ready and willing to grow beets in sufficient quantities to warrant to keep a factory well supplied with suitable beets for a long working season. The sugar beet must be grown on proper soil with the proper cultivation, and to give it these requires judgment, study and experience.

Prof. Wolf further declares that their investigations show that Wisconsin is in the best sugar belt of this country.

Arguing the probable futility of all our arrangements for protecting the seal in Bering's Sea, the New York Sun quotes the opinion of Mr. H. W. Elliott, of the Smithsonian Institution, who has made a twenty years study of the habits of the fur seal, to this effect: "The seals from the Pribilof islands make a great sweep annually down through the Aleutian islands, southward to the latitude of San Francisco and beyond, and back along the American, Canadian and Alaskan coast line to their place of breeding." The protection of the seal while in Bering's Sea would therefore merely transfer the scene of their slaughter and make any victory in the arbitration a barren one.

Dr. Thomas Eggleston, of Columbia college, has made a study of the pre-historic copper mines of the country. He says the old miners did their work with tools of stone, that they were of smaller stature than the Americans of today, and that they worked copper mines in the Lake Superior region and to the West Carolina. He inclines to believe them of Japanese origin. He speaks also of their wonderful irrigating dams, canals and water courses, which made a large part of the present arid lands of the West fertile.

A single incident told recently in the paper shows that methods of city poli-cymen. Certain people wished a bill introduced in the New York legislature to relief against the evils of the telephone companies, but not a single legislator would get to introduce it. Upon investigation their agent reported that the telephone company contributed $50,000 a year to Tammany Hall and a like amount to the republican campaign committee, and that therefore nothing could be expected either from Republican or Democratic members.

Minnesota Officials and Employees Mixed up in a Big Mining Land Deal.

The Iron Range Road Relinquishes Mesabi Lands and they are Gobbled Up by the Nighttime.

Some Features of the Interesting Little Pick up Made by the St. Paul Boys.

The recently inaugurated and now almost universal iron craze which is sweeping the state and making big money on small investments for a few fortunate or favored individuals is developing considerable dissatisfaction among citizens and would-be-investors as to the manner in which control of these lands is given out by the department having the authority in charge. To give a clear understanding of what has been done will be necessary to outline the process by which the investor secures the land upon which he desires to file. According to the provisions of the law an applicant for a lease must pay to the commissioner the sum of $25 for each tract filed upon, and upon this deposit being made a lease to hold for one year is issued. This lease may cover too much ground, the entire tract being contiguous in the same section, and if it is desired to secure a lease on a single forty acre tract the same fee must be paid. The leases hold good for one year, and may be renewed upon expiration, but should any one be injured and snipped out of the state's from such a land, a royalty of 25 cents per ton is to be paid to the state. In the issue of leases as will readily be seen, the state necessarily has charge of the entire business, and the theory of issuing leases is the only one of fine print first. Many persons have recently been made by citizens of the state outside of St. Paul that when they have applied for leases they have found that some delay was made in perfecting their leases, and before they were finally issued the information was elicited that the desired tract had been taken up.

Spotted Up by the State. The St. Paul Daily News was informed, on authority which it felt bound to respect, that the more valuable tracts of mineral land in the newly opened sections of the state had been snapped up by employees of the land commissioner's office just as soon as they came into the market, or as soon as it was made evident that the tracts were held by others more favorably.

At the Tivoli, 320 East Superior street, Saturday evening, big opening.

THE MESABA EXCURSION.

Sons Pleasing Features of Yesterday's Trip Over the Head.

The excursionists were so delighted at the Mesaba range yesterday W. E. Haskell, of the Minneapolis Journal, exclaimed: "I don't wonder that men will push their way through pine forests and across rocky ledges to get at the ore." He further stated: "The miners are the most hardy and determined people I ever saw."

Mr. Haskell's remarks were well deserved.

Mr. Vallen, manager of the real estate man, carefully scrutinized and the information given that the document could not be considered as it was not made out by a proper form.

The application was to be the next morning with a proper application and his business would be attended to.

The applicant says that the office was closed and no other papers could have been filed.

Used Matt Jensen's Name.

Early the next morning, before the office was open, the applicant was on hand, and when he gained access to the office, to his consternation, he found that the entire tract, the greater and more valuable parts had been leased.

It was a singular fact that when the office was closed on the night of Jan. 29, the title to the lease book pertaining to township 50, range 16, was a spotless blank, while at the opening of the office on Jan. 30, the title sheet was covered with a list of names, and that very few of the entries in his own name really belonged to him.

To Sue Rutherford.

The first applicant sorrowfully scanned the depleted list of available "forties," and finding only one which he considered worth taking, he filed a lease on that tract over he consulted an attorney and decided to bring an action against Rutherford, in whose name the leases were granted to compel a return to the public domain where the original application of the plaintiff would naturally take precedence over all others.

The attorney who sued him, however, declined to discontinue his representation further than to state that the facts were as above recited, and that action would be begun.

As to a peculiar position just now," said the attorney. "The fact is, we know of no real defendants will be. We know of course, that Mr. Rutherford is not a member of the party, but that his principals are an agent, and that his principals are the ones who will in reality defend the case."

"Does the fact of the leases being issued out of business hours lead you to believe that the real leases are employed in the auditor's office?"

"I believe Rutherford to be a conscientious and honorable man, and I would say nothing to inculpate any of his subordinates," was the cautious reply.

One Theory of the Deal.

The theory of the News' original information is that the leases recovered by the clerks in the land department and for the sake of convenience and to avoid comment were put in the name of Rutherford and Jensen. It is stated on reliable authority that Mr. Mulhearn, one of the clerks of the land department, has been in Duluth a good deal of the time lately, negotiating the sale of leases on the territory covered by the Duluth & Iron Range relinquishment, while Mr. Anderson, the chief bookkeeper, is also said to be a holder of a large amount of land.

The too much attention might not be attracted to such dealings, many newspapermen were, it is said, "let in on the great secret." It is also a matter of fact record that about eight forties stand leased to proprietors and attaches of leading St. Paul papers. County politicians and outside real estate men and friends of the family are supposed to have been given a quiet tip-up, which they failed not to take advantage.

In conducting his investigation and pursuing his inquiries, the state official who conducted the inquiry was surprised to find grave and serious apprehension on the part of some of the heads of departments to be the outcome of his investigation. Said one: "I afraid this business going to create a terrible scandal. It cannot be denied that some of the attaches of public offices have been in the line of their public duties to sell valuable franchises or privileges."

Another official declared that the land commissioner's office was not the only one involved, and that he was asked to resign. Wm. Short deserves better treatment than that of being ousted from the service. A man of his ability and knowledge would be a valuable acquisition. A man cannot stand with such a deal, that without being found out, and that there is some compensation connected with the position. He has kicked out of the room for some one else. He has demonstrated his fitness for the position, and the council will probably retain him.

IRON ON THE RANGE

More Companies are Organized and New Discoveries are Found From Day to Day.

A Remark or Two About the Way Leases are Sometimes Secured at the State Capitol.

Notes and Comments of the Week With Mention of Pilgrims Who Have Come and Gone.

A discovery which promises to be one of the largest and richest that has yet been made on the Mesaba range, has just been opened on 60-13. It is now known that the action brought this week by the Mesaba Iron against John A. Willard, W. W. Spalding and Peter Tate to correct the title to the northeast quarter of section 13, in 60, range 13, covers one of the finest showings of iron ore in Northern Minnesota. In looking over State Geologist Winchell's map for 1891 it is noted that the greatest deposits of iron in the state are found in the Mesaba range. The Lakewoods company sends a crew of men to its properties today to expedite developments.

Since visiting the Mesaba iron range, Adolph J. Blethen wishes he had been in a pit instead of a Pine Tree palace.

By an agreement made between W. N. Draper and the Kanawha, which was filed yesterday, relating to the suit recently instituted by Mr. Draper against J. T. Hale and Alfred L. Zedlitz, it is agreed that the company's property, it is agreed that if Draper wins the suit he shall be recognized as lessor of the lands to the company, and he shall receive royalties from the product of the mine accordingly.

The Mesaba is attracting wide notice and deep interest throughout the wide, as everybody would, for everybody is interested in the iron lands of the Mesaba.

A new book by Turner Harrison, author of "The Angloamericans" and "Fables de Hundert," is an event in the literary world. The Cassel Publishing company announced a new publication "A Daughter of the South and other Tales." The story which gives the volume its name is one of the most charming and characteristic of Mrs. Harrison's stories. The "other tales" that form the contents of this volume are "A Harp Unstrung," "A Thorn in His Cushion," "Mr. Clendenning Piper," "Diamonds and Toads," and "Wife's Love."

Joel Chandler Harris' new book, "On the Plantation," is said to contain fresh stories of Brer Rabbit, Brer Owl, Brer Bear, and other characters immortalized in "Uncle Remus." The plot of the book, however, is understood to be the story of the author's own life, and it is described as a singularly fascinating narrative. W. K. Kellogg has illustrated the book, which is to be published immediately by D. Appleton & Co.

Naval topics are prominent in Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for April. The open fire of naval warfare is illustrated in the Brooklyn Naval Yard by Thomas Stinson Jarvis' "Chin and Modern Naval Warfare" presents some spirited pictures, by an English eyewitness, of the principal engagements in the Chinese war. Talks on Appropriations and Tells How the Corn-Growing Congress Will Shell Out.

The Bridge Hearing Before the Board of Engineers Began Today, Both Sides Represented.

DETROIT, Mich., March 21.—Capt. J. W. Miller, of Duluth, was one of the delegates to the recent deep water convention here, and who was appointed one of the committee to present the resolutions before the joint congressional committees on rivers and harbors, is at the Cadillac, having just returned from Washington, where he has been since Jan. 25. He and other members of the delegation have been working with great energy to secure the adoption of a general program of dredging of the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence River, and the French, who started conflagrations in all parts of Paris. He spoke of the state of affairs in the city and said the time was ripe for a general raising of the drowsy den masses. Leaving Germany, Steener spoke of Chicago and Chief of Police McClellan, who broke up a socialist meeting Saturday night, and soon had his audience wild with enthusiasm.

Dead Body Found.
CINCINNATI, March 21.—Saturday afternoon, in Pleasant Hill, a suburb of Toledo, Belmont county, discovered the body of a man lying in a pool of blood. The body was found near the junction of Jefferson and Durham, a young man whose parents resided but a short distance from the scene. Young Durham had been in Toledo all day Friday and in the afternoon met several men, and he is enthusiastic over the reception accorded them by the congressmen and over the excellent prospects of seeing the object gained for which they were. What he did not say.

"I think," he said last evening, "that we succeeded at least in opening the eyes of the congressmen to the importance of the problem in the Northwestern country and the importance of the deepening of the waterways. We were received with great cordiality and every one was glad to give us a hand, and others through Germany have already begun their preparations to celebrate Bismarck's approaching 77th birthday on the first of April. The committee is almost a unit in our favor, and with the exception of Congressmen Weadock and Whiting, our representatives seconded.

Statements That Were Not Facts.

PHILADELPHIA, March 21.—The Inquirer says that seven out of nine commissioners from Michigan are opposed to the new appropriation, and that the bill should be voted down in just the opposite manner, however, as events showed almost immediately afterward. A petition was gotten up for the purpose of overruling the opposition of Mr. Whiting, spoke so confidently as against the scheme, every one of them affixed their names.

"What do you think of the prospects of getting the measure through?"

"I am quite confident that the entire appropriation of $3,500,000 asked for will be granted."

"The influence that has been brought to bear on the bill is not so great, but I think it did much harm," Whiting made

THE HISTORY OF A FIEND.
There is something actually diabolic in the cruel career of the man Williams, or as his true name seems to be, Frederick West, whose heinous murders in England and Australia have filled the papers of the past week.

He comes of good family, in Birkenhead, England, a place across the river from Liverpool. In 1880 he married Marie James at Birkenhead, by whom he had four children. Soon after his marriage he was sent to prison a year for forgery. Upon his release he contracted a bigamous connection with a respectable woman who seems to have soon found him out. He then returned to his true wife, with whom he went to Cape Town, South Africa, and they afterwards lived several years in Australia. He seems to have left her there and returned to England, where in 1890, it is said to have married a Miss Matheson. He deserted her, taking some of her property, was brought back from Uruguay, and was imprisoned nearly a year for the theft, the bigamy not being known apparently to the authorities when he procured his extradition. It is but fair to state that another account denies that Deeming was the man concerned in this crime. Last year he hired the villa in Dinhum, a suburb of Liverpool, and began paying attention to the lady whom he afterwards married and for whose murder he is now prosecuted in Australia.

Last summer, it is thought that his wife, then in Australia, heard something of his doings in England and thought best to return. She came down upon him at the Dinhum villa, and was last seen in the back yard there on Aug. 9, 1891. The next day the scenes of children heard, and, the next day he evidently murdered his whole family and hid their bodies where they have just been found. Then he married Miss Mather and again went to Australia.

Here some other woman seemed to have taken his fancy, and he murdered and disposed of the body of his last wife in the same way he had done of the first.
His arrest and the discovery of his last crime was speedily followed by the discovery of his murders in England, and now a career of crime of unequalled atrociousness shocks the civilized world.

That out of the heart of modern enlightenment and humanity could spring a beast of such unexampled ferocity, is one of the most shocking illustrations of the nearness even of well nurtured man to the brute. Let us hope that the birth of such monsters is infrequent, and that such as are born may seldom find it possible to work out the evil of which their natures are capable.

The weekly letter of Henry Clews &
Co. expresses a belief that after the first week in April the stock market will pass into a new and more favorable phase.
The outflow of gold will probably have reached a point where its issue can be foreseen. The passage of any free-coinage bill, it maintains, is not expected.
Even if the measure now pending should pass Congress it would certainly be annulled by the President’s veto. Should the next President happen to be a republican, it is reasonable to assume that he would veto any free coinage bill.
Should a Democrat be elected to the Presidency, the indications are daily accumulating that he would be ex-President Cleveland; whose record warrants us expecting a like policy. Thus the probabilities largely favor the prospects of the defeat of future attempts to force the coinage upon the country.

The excellent prospect of good crops here and the inability of Russia to recover from her present civil condition in one season, make the continuance of a large foreign demand for American grain certain and ensure us of another favorable year. Hence it is expected that the stock market will soon recover from its present quiet.

The telegraphic news of the German crisis shows no signs of its coming to an end as yet. Chancellor Caprivi tendered his resignation last week, in order to clear his honor from compromise for having promised in debate to stand or fall by the education bill. It was thought that if the emperor refused to accept his resignation, the chancellor might yield and continue to hold office. In debating the bill, Caprivi used this extraordinary expression:

“The question before us is not one of Protestantism against Catholicism, but of Christianity against Atheism.” Reports received this morning show that the Chancellor has finally determined to continue in office. He is said to have yielded entirely because the Emperor’s health is such that he cannot bear the strain of cabinet would involve.
Caprivi still insists on retiring from the premiership of the kingdom of Prussia, and will therefore not appear in the debates on the education bill in the Landtag.

The great Northwest has less reason to complain of the rush of emigrants for than any other section of the country.
The poorer people and those from Southern Europe usually stay in the East, partly from choice and partly from necessity. During the last seven months of 1891 the number arriving here from Europe was 283,415, an increase of almost 50,000 on the arrivals of the same months in 1890. A Lutheran paper estimates the arrivals of Lutherans in New York in 1891 at 100,000, nearly all Germans and Scandinavians. Most of these come to the Northwest. They are intelligent and industrious and become excellent citizens.

The nomination of Col. C. H. Graves for congress by the republicans of this district is looked upon with some favor by outside politicians and as a color is understood to be diverting attention to his claims who may figure in the coming convention. The Duluthian who can command the solid support of St.
Louis county is pretty likely to be nominated, but a divided sentiment among the local republicans means defeat at the polls or in the convention, and probably both.

A contributor to the N. Y. Eve. Post gives an interesting account of the hard struggle for even the rudiments of an education which goes on among the negroes of the black belt of Alabama.
The public money only keeps their schools open three months in each year and for longer terms the negroes must pay the extra expense. The Hampton school at Virginia sends out well-trained teachers, but often the teacher is but a shade less ignorant than the scholars. It is a hard but by no means hopeless struggle.

Speaking of Tammany control in New York city, the N. Y. Eve. Post declares that the impunity enjoyed by gamblers, brothel-keepers and liquor-dealers, from prosecution is the natural result of the elections which gave Tammany full control of the city government. To be sure, Tammany officials tax all these criminal trades so heavily that a foreign “crook” not long ago declared that the hush money he had to pay made his business unprofitable, but if they pay their “assessments” they are safe.

One of the curious facts in the Chicago prosecution is set forth by the Chicago Tribune. On the 1st of January the amount of the compressed cotton—fifteen $100 bills were deposited in one of the leading banks by a very prominent alderman. Shortly after the passing of the ordinance these deposits were withdrawn and the bank bills had been masked.
Since then some of them have been found in the possession of different aldermen, and are now in the possession of the state’s attorney.

New York banks are much troubled late with “sweated” double eagles from California. The coin is placed in an acid till a certain proportion of the gold is eaten off—ordinarily about dollar’s worth —and then thrown again into circulation.
This rascality is attributed to the Chinese in California. The only penalty for the offense falls on the person who knowingly circulates this light coin.

In spite of Gladstone’s policy of 1st the present parliament did a natural death, Balfour, finds great difficulty in conducting the closing business of the session. The Liberals will try if possible to amend his Irish local government bill into a serviceable shape.

On the arrival of the steamer Indiana in the harbor of Libau Friday night it was visited by the Russo-Greek clergy of the place, who held a thanksgiving service on board and formally blessed the ship. The Russians show unbounded gratitude.

Talking about democratic politics, Mr.
Barclay advanced the rather uncommon opinion, that while the Republicans of the West are the men, the republican of the East had to fear in the next campaign.

Cleveland is strong among the respectable elements of the Democratic party, but as far as I can see, the Democrats are stronger. They like him for his success. Hill would no doubt carry New York, and if he carries New South and Connecticut with the solid South is sure to win. He is a man of great ambition and will make a hot fight for it.

become ambitious and she will be

The telegraphic reports put the purchase price paid the Chicago bootlers for the various franchises in question to $100,000. The investigation as follows: Northern Pacific, $28,000; Economic Gas, $15,- 000; Compressed Air, $13,000.

The New York Assembly has finally passed a bill appropriating $300,000 for the exhibit of that state at the World’s fair. The British parliament has voted $30,000 and Denmark appropriates $30,000.

Egypt is making a good financial showing under British control. Her revenues are constantly increasing and now amount to about $50,000,000 and the past year shows a surplus of over $5,000,000.

This year will find Duluth too busy to fool away very much time about politics.
A little thing like a presidential election is not to be considered alongside of the Mesaba boom.

For the encampment in September next, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad offers an unexcelled service of through limited expresses from Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Columbus, Wheeling, Pittsburgh and all principal intermediate ment will be the greatest event in Washington since the grand review of 1865.

No railroad in America is better adapted than the B. & O. to the transportation of passengers and freight with dispatch, safety and comfort. Its long experience in transporting crowds to inauguration ceremonies, Knights Templar gatherings and similar gatherings on an extensive scale will prove most valuable in carrying the thousands to the encamp-

Democrats are stronger. They like him for his

sure to win. He is a man of great ambition and will make a hot fight for it.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING.

The Usual Amount of Routine Business Transacted.

The regular meeting of the school board was held on Saturday evening. The most interesting matter which came up was a communication from Supt. Denfeld. The communication pointed out the necessity for closer and quicker trials of cases of truancy. It was also decided that the various school buildings should be closed during a dangerous storm, as the one of a few days ago, the children could be dismissed. Mrs. J. D. Boyd and family leave in a few days for the Western Coast, where they will join Mr. Boyd.

Mr. R. D. Cogin is visiting friends in St. Paul.

Speech meetings will be held in the presbyterian church, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings under the direction of Miss Bella Hood.

The other business was routine. Bids were opened for the new High school building which will be kept by L. Cooley in the Beckman block, 217 West Superior street.

The said bid amounted to $10,000, the price outlined by Mayor d'Autremont in his inaugural message to the council is to be carried out to the letter.

It is a notorious fact that for some time there have been several assignation houses where the law was continually violated. Last night the first raid was made and unless there is a change it will be conducted so well that it will be easily followed.

At 10 o'clock the police squad was under direction of Lieutenant Thompson and consisted of five patrolmen.

The raid was planned by George Haydon. The squad gained entrance to the Beckman block, each gaining an entrance to the hall on the second floor.

Open from both sides of the hall are a series of small rooms. Most of them were found occupied and couples inside were led into the patrol wagon and taken to the station. In all to prisoners were taken, five men and two women, all of whom were in the confederate and none able to escape.

Most of the people made no resistance to the raid and when called upon opened the doors. Two couples however, refused to do so and the officers by using only ordinary violence could not force an entrance. They therefore engaged a sieve and were out in less than half an hour.

One man was arrested and was taken to the station, when he surrendered, coming out, gave himself up to the officers, who were waiting for him.

The proprietor of the place is ill and was not taken into custody. The prisoners and entered on the books as the toll gallery only on presenting a yellow ticket box office a yellow ticket.

CONSPIRACY ALLEGED.

Papers Filed in a Sensational Land Suit in the District Court Today.

State Auditor Bierman, R. C. Elliotts and Others Alleged Conspirators to Defraud

Rightful Owners of Title to Valuable Properties on the Mesaba Range.

A sensational case is now pending in the district court and will come up for hearing at the coming term. The title of the case is J. H. Bierman vs. Fain Griffen and Nellie Griffen vs. R. C. Jamison, John, Mather, R. C. Elliott and H. Nelson.

It involves the title to 12 farms in the Mesaba. The complainant contains some very serious allegations, and charges that in 1891 a conspiracy existed in St. Paul with the object of defrauding rightful owners of their interests in Mesaba lands. As members of this conspiracy are named R. C. Jamison, the president of St. Paul attorney, John, Mather, R. C. Elliott and H. Nelson.

Light and Power company, R. C. Elliott at that time private secretary to Governor Merriam, and Auditor Bierman. According to the case, the farms were fraudulently sold to the Griffens for $12,000. The case was filed four days ago but remained suspended for four days while the facts until service could be obtained from the defendants. The complaint is a somewhat voluminous document and goes into details as to dates and names. In substance it is as follows:

That on Jan. 26, 1888, the state of Minnesota, then the owner of the lands in question and that all the lands in the state of St. Louis county known as the Mesaba range. That in April 1889 the commissioners of the land office, by virtue of their power under the act of that date, ruled that when there were no specific application for a lease of any parcel of state land, the lease should be given to the first applicant. When this rule was made the plaintiffs made an application to W. W. Braden, the commissioner for leases on the lands in question, and that the application was in regular form, and that it was accepted as in all respects. That at the time of the filing of the applications the plaintiffs made a tender to the state treasurer of $25 a month to the auditor to accept the order from the auditor and the auditor refused an order on the ground that no patent of the land had been issued to the state by the United States. That this at once caused the commissioners to make a new application to W. W. Braden, the commissioner for leases on the lands in question, and that the application was in regular form, and that it was accepted as in all respects. That at the time of the filing of the applications the plaintiffs made a tender to the state treasurer of $25 a month to the auditor to accept the order from the auditor and the auditor refused an order on the ground that no patent of the land had been issued to the state by the United States. D. Scott of Thompson, was in Duluth today with some fine samples of ore from the outcropping three miles west of Carlton town. Harry Hawkings was also on change and corroborates the interesting news from the west, concerning the ore. The ore is very like that from the best mines of the Mesaba range, and the coming of spring promises lucrative donations.

IRON, COAL AND KE

Great and Constant Progress Being Made on the Vermillion and Mesaba Iron Ranges.

New and Interesting Ore Finds All Along the National Vertebral From Gundlitz Lake to Sundown.

A Few Well-Spoken Words About the Coal Beds of Minnesota and the Coal Characteristics.

The iron stock market is still rather sluggish with not much promise of things till the new company comes to an end. Everybody is getting in on the ground floor just now, and as a result becomes a seller instead of a buyer of the gill-edged goods. The large amount of money received for stocks has in a great measure been expended in the purchase of lands, and as a result stocks have been neglected. It would seem a very wise and proper thing for the government to take a few thousand dollars out for the purchase of their issue and thus tone up the market once more.

Joe Headwell, of Northfield, arrived in Duluth last night and departed on the afternoon train for St. Paul today. He has some interesting findings in the northern breakwaters of Duluth, his mission here was purely a search for shingles. As was once said of another friend of mine, "He loves his country for the enemies he has made," and trust he will gather in a good amount of the round-up on the range.

SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Bismarck Dangerously Ill, But Slightly Better; The Emperor Makes no Sign.

Caprivi Again at Hubertusstock; Count Von Enulenburg to be Prussian Premier.

It is Asserted That Salisbury Will be Asked for a Categorical Answer.

BERLIN, March 23.—It has transpired that the sudden illness of Prince Bismarck on Monday last was much more serious than first reported. It appears that on Monday he was suddenly stricken with alarming symptoms of collapse. He had several fainting fits and for a time it was feared that the results would be serious. Prompt medical attention enabled the prince to rally, but he is still very weak and far from convalescent. It is well known that the Kaiser's digestion is in some quarters that Bismarck might be called to the helm of affairs again and that among the numerous telegrams of inquiry received at Friedrichsruh, where the prince lies, it is not known there was none from the kaiser, although there is not the slightest doubt that the kaiser was promptly informed of his Excellency's condition. In view of Bismarck's age, the uncertainty that he may survive until another birthday, the preparations for the celebration of his 77th birthday have been made, and the prince is believed to be worth $100,000. There were 100 shares in the Continental Oil company, now consolidated with the Standard Oil company. Many of the mining stocks are in the name of P. F. Col. Altman's brother, who has already been found and communicated with. The heirs are said to be residents of Pennsylvania.

TALMAGE AND HIS TRICKS.

A South Dakota Lecturer Who Claims to Expose Him.

ABERDEEN, S. D., March 23.—The Rev. Philip E. Holp, of Watertown, S. D., has created widespread comment by a lecture entitled "Talmage and His Tricks." After paying a high tribute to Mr. Talmage, he got down to the following charge: "On March 10, Talmage produced a sermon on: 'Shall We Know Each Other There?' in which at least twelve clerics are 13 different thoughts from 'Hastings's Heavenly Recognition,' a book published in 1841. He forgot to give credit.

He said that in two years Talmage has given probably a thousand sermons. Permit me to repeat one of his: In 1878 he preached on 'The Midnight Horseman.' In 1880 he preached 'The Moonlight Ride.' In 1886 he preached 'The Moon and Song.' In 1888 he called the same sermon 'Songs in the Night.' In 1888 he gave the 'Upper and Nether Springs.' In 1880 the same under 'New Springs of Joy.'

AMOUNT IN THE TREASURY.

The Available Sum now in the Treasury $64,000,000.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Secretary Fisher said today in discussing the condition of the treasury that there was nearly always $6,000,000 in disburser officers' hands, and that was practically current funds, for while the balance of the treasury might show only a net balance of $20,000,000, the subsidiary silver and gold coin and bullion bank actually took the place of these $6,000,000 of disburser officers, leaving at all times $10,000,000 in available funds over and above the $100,000,000 gold reserves. Considering the $23,000,000 subsidiary coin and the $100,000,000 gold reserves, the total available assets exclusive of the $100,000,000 gold reserve would be $64,000,000. Rather a comfortable sum for a rainy day.

MILLS CONGRATULATED.

Will Speak on the Tariff Before Leaving the House.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—Senator-elect Mills has received innumerable congratulations upon his unanimous election yesterday. Last night fully two-thirds of the members of the house called upon him to extend their congratulations. Of the numerous well-known republican representatives.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

ST. LOUIS, March 23.—Last night at 10:30 p. m., at Oden Junction, Ill., a freight on the Illinois Central crashed into the second coach on the O. & M. eastbound train, cutting the coach in two. The passengers were all severely injured, but continued their journey. The engineer of the freight saw the standing passenger and reversed just in time to avert an accident which might have proved disastrous.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION.

Six Persons Killed and Two Severe Injured by a Benzine Explosion.

AMSTERDAM, March 23.—The explosion of a barrel of benzine in a drug warehouse today killed six persons and injured 27, some of them fatally. Four houses were destroyed.

SMUGGLING FAKE TEETH.

CHICAGO, March 23.—Treasury Agents Soehngen and Harlan yesterday visited the Dr. Ernest Hellwig dental clinic and seized a package containing more than 500 false teeth. The woman admitted bringing the teeth from Germany. They were worth $2,000 and the duty would have been $80. After briefly passing the customs officers at New York, Mrs. Hellwig came to Chicago to visit her dentist's office.

Chris Thompson, Agent Sanborn, however, says he believes the teeth smuggling has been going on for some time.

GENERAL STRIKE SETTLED.

Lord Salisbury Called on for a Conference with the Amherstians.

CHICAGO, March 23.—The Inter-Ocean's Washington special says, referring to yesterday's cabinet meeting, at which the Bering Sea negotiations were discussed: "It is ascertained that one result of the meeting was that another dispatch was sent tonight to Lord Salisbury, this good old soldier. One who would know answers this question is an eminence in tone and that it demands a speedy categorical answer to the inquiry as to whether or not a modus vivendi will be agreed upon.

The Weather.

MARCH 23.—The storm which affected this section yesterday was a severe one. The snow fell in large flakes and the exception of along the lakeshore it was clear and pleasant.

There has been some rain in the interior over Duluth in the past 24 hours. At Huron it stood about two inches, and there is more to come in the country. In other sections it is about the average.

An area of low pressure is central over the extreme Northwest this morning, and may possibly move eastward, bringing rain to the coast, reaching this section and bringing rain tonight. The barometer reached by the thermometer yesterday here was 30.02 and stood at that again during the night to 10² and stood at that again this morning.

DULUTH, March 23.—Local forecast for Duluth until 8 a. m., March 24: Fair, possibly followed by rain tonight; slightly warmer.

WINNIPEG AND MEASA.

The relations between the Winnipeg and the Measa railroad companies are such that aid voted to the Measa for terminal purposes will bring the Winnipeg in Duluth. There is no friction anywhere, and the Winnipeg is as eager as the Measa to see St. Louis come solve this problem for herself.

The Measa folks are withholding their proposition only for the purpose of securing satisfactory terms on the lands necessary for their use, and it will not be long till the people of Duluth will have something definite before them. There is a degree of feeling on the part of both roads that the Duluth Transfer Railway company, which they for a time had hoped would afford them terminal facilities, has not quite come up to its early manifesto. But this default will not prevent those important roads from establishing their terminals on the Duluth side of the bay if the people of St. Louis county take early and favorable action in their behalf.

There is nothing left now but to determine the amount necessary for such an undertaking and pass judgment on it at the polls. The price of the lands needed will have some bearing upon this matter, and when they are once secured it would seem there should be no further waste of time. A few months ago The Herald advocated this same sort of thing, but then in the minds of many wise citizens there was nothing on the Measa worth building a road for, and in their opinion the papers were bought up to speak kindly of it. Now things are changed and the inevitable iridescence has become reality. Millions of tons of ore are in sight and fortunes have been made by outsiders while the own people have been wondering whether the Measa was a farce or not. The end is now in sight, and ready to enlist for three years or till the end of the boom. The aid will be voted and the terminals built.

The farmers about Chicago seem to be wiser in their generation than the farmers about New York. The latter have for years been combining in various ways, none of which have proved effective, to get control of the milk business of the city. There it is the people who distribute the milk who set the prices. It is unnecessary to add that these are low for the farmer and high for the consumer. In Chicago, on the other hand, a Farmer's Dairy company has been formed which, the papers say, will control the entire milk business of the city. The new company promises well, and if its performance is satisfactory will be a boon both to the producer and consumer. Should the capitalists who furnish the money change the original plan and squeeze both farmer and consumer, they will follow the rather well-beaten track which such entrepreneurs have often taken heretofore.

A single issue of the Chicago papers reports two facts illustrative of the tone of the times. The first was the interruption of a proposed fight by a policeman, who locked up both principals as suspicious characters. Influential friends, one of whom was a Chicago alderman, procured their release in time to have their fight. The second was the tampering with the printed journal of the Illinois house of representatives at the request of a member who got his name left out of a vote as recorded in the official journal. This was done by the general manager of the company printing the journal, who has confessed the fraud.

The News of Sunday averred that the York steel plant bonus had been raised and that the whole matter was concluded. Today it takes the statement all back and says the matter still hangs fire. The Herald has the facts in its keeping ready for use when the plans are ripe. As we have heretofore remarked, if our morning contemporaries would wait till they see things in The Herald before they publish them, they would save time and worry. They generally do so, and every time they try to be the early bird they have to retract while the worm gets away.

The St. Louis county democrats hold their primaries from 7 to 8 o'clock this evening and their convention in the city hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon to name seven delegates to the St. Paul convention, which meets March 31. Duluth will of course secure one of the two district delegates to Chicago, and John G. Brown will have no opposition here in his candidacy for that honor. The local democracy sets a good example for the scalp-lifting republican warriors.

The heavy snow which fell so gently yesterday will expedite the dissolution of the ice in the harbor and hasten the opening of navigation. It is likely also to soften up the logging highways and cause them to begin the woods.

The vernal breeze already wafts sweet perfumes from the south and reminds us of the promise that there shall be a seafaring harvest. Even now our people are planting kale seed on the Mesabi range and can see the good time coming.

A new phase of popular interference with the law crops out in West Virginia. On Sunday night a mob of masked men surrounded the jail at Hamlin, and released a prisoner held to answer a charge of murder. If mobs can convict why may they not acquit? Yet if this style of interference is allowed, why may not any large gang of scoundrels commit crime with impunity and then "lynch" their men out of jail as fast as we are put in?

The reply of Lord Salisbury on the seal matter is not yet made public but it is said to be pacific. There need be no fear of a collision between the two countries on this question. The most we have to fear is, that after our cruisers have seized a number of Canadian sealers the point of American jurisdiction in Bering Sea may be ruled against us in the arbitration. In that case our government might have heavy damages to pay.

The resignation of Count Zedlitz the minister most responsible for the popular education bill, has been accepted and his successor appointed. This settles the point that the original measure will not be pushed. Indeed it is practically dead. It seems that it was specially favored by the Catholics and that it is opposed by the Lutherans who, if any Protestants, might be expected to vote it.

THE DULUTH EVENING HERALD: WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1892.

DEMANDS A DIVISION

Z. H. Austin Wants His Share in the Profits of a Real Estate Deal.

He Worked the Deal and Was to Have Received an Equal Share.

Mr. Upham Sued in the District Court for the Sum of $119.379.

A little light on the inside history of some of the real estate deals in the old boom days may be the result of a suit just begun in the district court. The title is Z. H. Austin vs. N. J. Upham, and is to recover $119,379, alleged to be due Austin for his share in the profits of a real estate operation some years ago. Austin is the surviving partner of Austin & McFarlane, and the partnership existed with Upham for the organization of the St. Louis Land Improvement company and such a company was formed. McFarlane owned some land and wanted very badly to have the company on account of the water frontage. By Austin's understanding if he would induce McFarlane to put his land up in his name, Upham would take stock and help dispose of it to others. McFarlane was to furnish the land, Upham the money and Austin was to manage the land deal and all were to share the proceeds. Austin says he carried out his share of the work, he formed his company and induced McFarlane to put in his name. Upham had no vision of the profits under the agreement, and so he refused to contribute. The profits he did receive he alleges are entirely due to his Austin's efforts in organizing the townsite scheme and would not have been possible without that plan.

The case will go on trial next week. Now he asks the courts to compel a division of the benefits with him. He asks $119,379 as his share in the following transactions which he says had to be made by Upham:

Sols of section 2, 47-11 $12,000.00

Unit 1/4 of sec 3, 47-12, except sec 1 67,500.00

Unit 1/4 of sec 3, 47-13, except sec 1 67,500.00

Unit 1/4 of sec 14, 48-13 2,563.75

Lot 4, section 11, 48-13 2,563.75

Total 25 4,000.00

Section 10, 48-13, except lot 1 5,000.00

W. H. Austin & Co., 48-13, except 4, 48-15 5,000.00

W. H. Austin & Co., 48-15 5,000.00

And 1/4 of sec 4, 48-15 5,000.00

Profits made on stock. $29,788.12

The case when it comes to trial will prove very interesting as an illustration of the methods in the days of the boom and as a side light on the real estate business in general.

AMUSEMENTS.

Bobby Gaylor at the Lyceum in "Sport McAllister."

"Sport McAllister" presented to a crowded house at the Lyceum last evening, is a farce comedy of a particularly idiotic type. But it was not at all funny, and has no vision in life beyond this production must be considered in a measure a success. The play has no story, no motive, but it has an action as well as a plot, and the comedy, which serves to conceal some of the defects, but unfortunately to emphasize others. Gaylor himself is a very clever, brisk comedian, unique in both his style and his manner of making old jobs and stage business seem new. The play is so arranged that specialties can be thrown in anywhere without injuring the story. Scenery very simple, but effective. The concert solo by Miss Hernandez caught the audience and it was well done. The male quartet did some good, but not remarkable work. The best of the show was the comic sketch of Parker, a young lady with a very silly Price-Dow manner and no fear of dislocated joints. She is light, graceful and perfect just as she is, and is a great pleasure rather than otherwise. The company was not fairly good one and in many places could readily be improved, and the same might be said of the person.

The "Police Patrol" closed its engagement at the Temple last evening and drew another good house.

STILL FENDING.

The Matter of the York Steel Plant Unsettled.

The negotiations for the York steel plant seem to be of a very "now you see them, now you don't" character. Several times the statement has been made upon good authority that the negotiations were closed, but every time there has been a very prompt contradiction from another statement, made still more momentous as soon before the plant could be secured. The negotiations yesterday were said to be practically closed. Today a Herald reporter said that they were not yet closed through entirely. A. M. Scarpa said this morning, "We expect to close the matter up this week and you may be sure we will be glad to give the papers full information as soon as the fact is true. We shall also furnish them a description of the plant. The incorrect, premature and misleading statements which have been made by a morning paper and a great number of others have made a task, already difficult, very much harder. It is probable that Saturday will see the final closed up. When it is we shall let you and the public know."

COUNTY REPUBLICANS.

The Republican Club Considers and Adopts a Constitution.

The regular meeting of the St. Louis County Republican club was attended by about 25 members. The club, the only business of importance was an discussion of the revised constitution and by-laws.

The annual meeting was fixed for the first Monday in April, the president, secretary and treasurer were made members of the executive committee and it was voted that the club should contribute a quarter. All republicans over 18 years of age may become members. The club will not secure nominations for office, but will support the nominees of the republican party.

When the matter of securing quarters came up it led to some discussion, but it was finally decided to rent the ground floor room in the west side of the Hayes' building.

Short addresses were made by Dr. Barrett, President Towne and Judge Morris.

Democratic Primaries.

The democratic primaries to elect delegates to the county convention will be held throughout the county this evening. The 18th district election committee will in turn elect delegates for the convention at St. Paul. There promises to be some interest in the delegation as there are two members of Duluth County and the ballot may be a little lively.

People's party committee has called a meeting at the city hall for Saturday afternoon to elect delegates to their county convention.

FELL ON A LADDER.

A Family Quarrel.

John and Freda Petter live out on the Wisconsin division of the Northern Pacific road about three or four miles from Carlton, but their conjugal felicity is marred by frequent discussions, which mainly arise from John's love for intoxicants. Yesterday John visited Superior to get a bottle of whisky, when he reached home in the afternoon he was very drunk and very ugly. The usual discussion arose, and Mrs. Petter was in the parlor when the husband was placed in the hands of an attorney yesterday, and their claims will be promptly looked after.

Alex Grant leaves tomorrow for the Mesaba range.

Euclid Lodge meets this evening for work in first degree.

Rosetta's Temperance Lecture at the City Hall.

Democratic meetings in each ward in the city this evening for the choosing of delegates.

Mrs. F. C. Stinson and daughter left this morning for Pine City, Minn., where her husband is now located.

Several windows were broken in the bank building by careless blasting for the foundation of the Kreider building.

The physician of the methodist church has made extensive preparation for its entertainment to be given this evening in the church.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. McArthur who have been living in Duluth for the past month, have now moved to the city of St. Paul, free of charge, which letter is not of course able to relate the reason. "John was drunk and we right." John was drunk and we right." His wife's mishap completely sobered Petter and he was very anxious about the extent of her suffering or injuries.

WANTS IT BACK.

Ed Harroun Suing to Recover His Money.

Edward Harroun, the ex-assessor of Ramsey county, has brought his threatened suits against Loomis & Depue and the syndicate of gambling houses to recover the sum of $10,000, which he paid to them, rendering him unable to meet his financial obligations.

In the case of Kersten vs. McMinn in municipal court this morning the evidence was insufficient to hold Mr. McMinn as charged, that of assault with dangerous weapon, and he was dismissed. Action will be brought against him for trespass.

Frank Carlson, one of the new police officers, arrested a drunken man on Second street last evening and attempted to take him to the station, but the officer and his friend in his days, and forlorn work sake, just before he left Harroun worked on a bogus draft for $150. The victim, the local police, was so annoyed at the conduct of the officer and refused to prosecute.

From Harroun went to West Superior and while there was arrested for alleged attempted rape. Nothing came of it, however, but while there he worked the bogus draft business to the extent of some $200. The case here against him were ever prosecuted.

When G. Wharton James the lecturer called at John D. St. Paul Dispatch: Col. D. Dodge a prominent business man of Duluth, met with a peculiar and painful accident while driving his car one night. He was passing from one car to another when the car gave a sudden lurch and he caught the panel of the door for support. Luckily a physician was on the train and dressed the wound promptly, preventing more serious results.

The Ideal Baking Powder

is

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder.

For more than fifty years Cream of Tartar and Bicarbonate of Soda have been used for leavening purposes with sufficient flour added to preserve the strength of the powder unimpaired, and this with the addition of whites of eggs comprises this pure and wholesome leavening agent, that has been the standard for 40 years. It is its use pure, wholesome and delicious food is always assured.

Makes cake and biscuit that retain their moisture, and while they are flaky and extremely light they are fine grained, not coarse and full of holes as made with ammonia baking powders, latter dries up quickly. Alum powders leave a bitter taste in the bread or cake.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder once used, always used.

WILL BUILD THE BRIDGE

Rumors that the Canal Bridge Will be Erected and at Once.

No Matter What May be the Conclusion Reached by the Army Engineers.

Will the Plan be a Profitable One for the Interests of Duluth?

The feeling in Duluth today is not at all hopeful regarding the outcome of the hearing before the board of army engineers at Detroit. The interests to be combatated were powerful and the Duluth advocates had many disadvantages to labor under. It is not at all surprising that they have had an uphill fight. There are few places in the country where a bridge would be more exposed than would one across the canal and it is regarded as very doubtful if the consent of the board for its erection can be gained.

It is said that Secretary of War Elkins is in favor of the plan, and that he will decide in favor of Duluth, but the hope is not very strong one. The secretary to the final judge in the case is held for the release of the engineering information for his benefit. But at the same time it would be something very unusual for him to overrule their findings. It is highly probable that what the Detroit engineers will do will be to demand a full and complete investigation.

There is another plan in contemplation which even if the government should refuse ascent, will provide a bridge for a fee.

The plan is to get the government and the bridge built at the expense of the government and the bridge company.

This would be so much tape that the bridge would be completed before the money was disbursed, and then the government would certainly never force removal.

That is the surtest plan and the quickest.

There is some question, too, as to whether the city does not still own the canal lots, and if so, she could go ahead with a bridge and let the government whistle.

In fact the original plan was suggested to the government, and if it the bridge would be completed before the money was disbursed, and then the government would certainly never force removal.

That is the surtest plan and the quickest.

CANADA RAMPANT

Admiral Holman on His Way With a Fleet to Protect Canadian Seafarers.

Canada Ready for us on Land, if England Will Whip us at Sea.

The Slaveholding American Seal Monopoly: They Make Peons of the Aleutian Islanders.

LONDON, March 24.—It is stated today on excellent authority that Rear Admiral Holman, of the Pacific squadron, has received instructions to protect the Canadian sealers in the event that no arrangement can be arrived at with the United States. Lord Selkirk was at first inclined not to take this step and simply to leave the matter alone, letting the Canadians take their chances of escape from the American revenue cutters, and of litigating in the American courts. To this Sir Charles Tupper, the Canadian high commissioner, is said to have given his assent, adding that he had told Salisbury to understand that Canada did not ask for, but demanded the protection of England and that nothing less than complete protection would be satisfactory to her people. He said the sealers were to be prepared to defend their part and prove their loyalty on land; but they must look to England for defense at sea. England could afford a quarrel on this question with the United States as it was a question regarding which the whole world would be on the English side, as against the Americans, the monovious of animals roaming the high seas. He also argued that there would be no public sentiment in the United States behind President Harrison and that the American people would be willing to have the Canadian sealers protected. The American people said Sir Charles had no sympathy with monopoly in Alaska, any more than in any other country, and the history of the Alaska monopoly was laid bare, as it would be if the quarrel was pushed much farther, the American people said. Sir Charles is reported to have pointed out that it was a name of the Aleutian islands, although nominally entitled to all American rights were virtually the peers of the Alaska islands, and the whole history of the islands and a part of the ocean made a name of millions of dollars, claimed Sir Charles, and sacrificed hundreds of thousands of lives to put an end to slavery 30 years ago and they would be amazed, he declared, when they heard the command he gave them to go to war in order that a form of modified slavery might be maintained in the Aleutian islands and a part of the ocean made a name for the benefit of a few millionaires.

It is such arguments as these which have induced Lord Salisbury to take further action towards protecting Canadian sealers.

Advices have been received to the effect that the Waspire, flagship of Rear Admiral Holman, is now on its way to Port Royal, and is expected to arrive in time to meet the man-of-war which is to be ready for any hostile demonstration on the part of the United States.

The Evening Post today make known the secret of the Waspire's arrival. The Star, Radical-Liberal, says that Lord Selkirk knocked under to Blaine in 1881 and declines rightfully to consent again to play into the hands of a ring of sealers to whom he has been a friend to the Congress. Moreover, such a course would be an injustice to the Canadians.

The Evening Post today make known the secret of the Waspire's arrival. The Star, Radical-Liberal, says that Lord Selkirk knocked under to Blaine in 1881 and declines rightfully to consent again to play into the hands of a ring of sealers to whom he has been a friend to the Congress. Moreover, such a course would be an injustice to the Canadians.

Yesterday was one of the warmest days of the month, the mercury climbing to 40° during the day, and falling to 30° at night.

HOW TO REFORM.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press, speaking of municipal reform, says:

The only way to secure the nomination of qualified men to municipal offices is to have those organizations (the Civic and Democratic) readily responsible for the character of their nominees; to vote against bad men and to vote for the best men by whatever party nominated. This is the true sphere of the independent citizens' movement in municipal politics.

The course proposed may do for St.
Paul, but would it do for New York or Chicago? In the earlier stages of the disease the evil may be checked by playing party against party, but a time comes, as it frequently has come in such cities as Chicago, Philadelphia and New York, when the city politics of both parties got into corrupt control.
Then, to use the memorable language of Senator Sherman, "the innumerable of fices, emoluments, contracts of a great city, and all the public improvements, are made to contribute to a great cor ruption fund, which, used by single man ager, or is apt to be the case, by two managers, one of each party, tends to destroy the power of the people."

This was precisely the condition of things which the Jacob Sharp case disclosed in New York city. Both Republicans and Democrats were found in the same corrupt ring. The truth is that in the worst wards of that city, into which the tenement house population is crowded, is done the most effective political work in the city. The operators may be Tammany men; they may, especially for a consideration, act with the republicans;
or they may take a hand themselves,
and get elected to the city councils.
They are the material from which leaders are made.

It is a fact, even in such a half foreign city as New York that a majority of its voters are so depraved themselves, or so ignorant of the evils of corrupt local government, that they would votingly vote boldfaced officers into full control of the city councils! We have heard this asserted, but we have never believed it to be a fact. Now the mix ing of national with local politics works evil in two ways. In the first place it divides the respectable, intelligent vot ers into two hostile camps; and, if the national lines are to be carried into local politics, the better class of voters will naturally unite. The boddies of both parties, however, are under no such difficulty if there is any money to be made by uniting, and when united they are sure to win.

But there is a further difficulty. Both parties, in their contests on national issues, are willing to avail themselves of the very evil practices which corrupt the local politicians of both sides. They are willing to buy them with money and to wink at the other deprivities of corrupt politics. In other words, they teach them the first lessons in the vice which ruins all our great municipal govern ments.

Hence, if we are to reform such city governments as those of New York or Chicago, all, or nearly all the decent, in dustrious, intelligent voters must be united in one organization. It is not probable that even then they could at first beat the boddies. One or more "campaigns of education" might be necessary. But those who lead a move ment for good government must not ex pect that they can at the same time practice corruption in national elections and honesty in city elections. The two methods will not combine.

The American right to prohibit the Canadian sealers from taking seal within a league of any American island in Bering Sea is conceded, but the right to in terfere with anyone's taking seal outside that limit is a very doubtful one. Our government is clearly right, however, in holding that the war against the seals should not go on while the arbitration is pending to settle that very question. If the protection of seal is worth arbitra tion, it is but fair that the value of American rights, if she has any, should not be destroyed while the arbitration is pending. If, therefore, the British gov ernment tries to play a sharp game on us, the country will sustain the President in taking peremptory measures to stop it.

It is now said that he has informed the British government that if it declines to assist in the protection of the seals during the arbitration of the claims of the United States, he will proceed to enforce the laws and exclude poachers from Bering Sea if the military force of the United States is required to accom plish it.

STATE CONVENTION FOR DULUTH.

With the new interest awakened in Northern Minnesota through recent min ing developments, the growing impor tance of Duluth, and the fact that the old Fifth district—sometimes even St. Louis county—has determined the result of a state election, it would seem that the democracy of the state could easily be induced to hold its autumnal convention in the Zenith city of the unsaline deep.

Duluth has two theaters, either one of which would accommodate a multitudi nous convention, such as the democ racy promises to hold this year; we have a most delightful climate at the season the convention is likely to be called to gether, and, if it should be necessary, free transportation could be provided from the Twin cities. There is appar ently nothing in the way, and a little judicious work on the part of Duluth Democrats ought to make a winner of the undertaking. Duluth has never asked very much and generally she has received very little from either party, but she is in high regard everywhere and the most friendly feelings prevail throughout the state. We can take care of the convention, make it pleasant for the boys, and it wouldn't do the democracy of the state any hurt to come up and look around at its most fertile future possession. We would like the republican convention too, but with the local quarrels and scalp dances that exist in that party here it might serve only to deepen the chasm. However, if we can't soothe the wounds and remove the old-time scars, it would do a service to its party, to our city and the state.
A little iron stock would secure it, per adventure it would do no harm to have a bid.

The silver debate can hardly be said to throw much light on the question. In fact it is clear enough already. Those congressmen who wish to scale down the value of the dollar from 100 to 70 cents, with a constantly shifting value at that, should vote for the measure. Those who want an honest, stable dollar, worth all it professes to be worth, should vote against it. One of the inci pents of yesterday's debate was the re ply of Mr. Harter, the anti-silver Ohio Democrat, to a Georgia Alliance mem ber. The latter asserted that, "Hill and Cleveland simply mean silver and anti silver."

Harter then jumped to his feet and said:
"Do you mean to say that Hill is in favor of silver?"
Mr. Livingstone—"I will ask you for this question. Will you vote for him if he is?"
Mr. Harter—(emphatically) "No, sir."
(Loud applause.)
Thereupon Mr. Livingstone exclaimed,
"You can't squeeze one ounce of Dem ocracy out of the whole crowd," refer ring to the anti-silver Democrats.
Chairman Bland announced yesterday that he would move to close the debate at two this afternoon. In case the oppo nents of the bill filibuster, the commit tee rules will bring in a rule forcing a vote on Monday.

From this distance it would appear that Mayor Winston, of Minneapolis, in assuming the role of local dictator, has made a very serious political blunder—blunder which must eliminate his name from the list of possible gubernatorial candidates. He ought to be just a little bit modest, and, being mayor of the most populous city in the state, let the rest of the boys have something. If he purposes to use the power with which his party has clothed him, merely to graft his own personal ends; or if he is jealous of his equals, and, in fear of rivals, can brook no counsel but that of political lightweights, he can serve his party best by retiring to private life. He seems to be narrow gauged and utterly devoid of political sagacity. If our judgment is unjust it can be amended.

The recent English coal strike has been an illustration of the evils of the system. The price of coal was pushed up to panic prices. The poor suffered intensely. Business was everywhere prevented from doing its work, and they were fully insured! Not only had the poor lost nothing, but he could not boast with truth that the first edition of his book was exhausted. He had sold it to the insurance company.

"Come down, Tom" is the nickname by which a society man in Washington is now generally hailed. At the last White House reception the young fellow presented himself before Mrs. Harrison, and she gave him one of her kisses for the high above her in the air, and reaching up her own, said quickly "Come down, Tom; we don't shake hands that way in the Wabash." It was time somebody in authority disapproved that beastly handshake.

The Chicago Farmer's Review reports the condition of winter wheat as better than has been learned. In Illinois about three-fifths of the correspondents report the condition fair to good. The other two-fifths report it bad. Indiana and Michigan reports show about the same condition. In Wisconsin the out look is decidedly bad. The trouble is from recent heavy "freezes."

Yesterday Minneapolis started for the Russian Relief association at Philadel phia 175 car loads of flour (22,000 bushels), bought by the association. The trains were gaily decorated with flags, and will run together to Philadelphia, where a great reception may be expected. The steamer Conemaugh will carry it to Russia.

Prohibition in Iowa meets the same difficulty shown in the recent city elec tion at Portland, Me., where a repub lican mayor was defeated simply because he enforced the law. The evidence is indeed, very strong that in cities of even moderate size, popular sentiment is against free prohibition.

The Association of the Bar of the city of New York tried Judge Maynard, of the Court of Appeals, Tuesday night, for reprehensible conduct in the Dutchess county election case. They found him guilty by a vote of about five to one. The legislature will be called on to remove him from office.

The present mayor of Sioux City, Iowa, has announced his determination to enforce the prohibitory law. It seems that hitherto the dealers have been carrying on their business regularly under a local license system, which was, of course, illegal, but which has been generally ac cepted.

The Cleveland followers have practi cally no opposition in Minnesota, and the state convention promises to be a unified, harmonious whole. It will meet in St. Paul one week from today.

The long wheat investigation is at last over at St. Paul. The committee is now reviewing the testimony preparatory to making a report.

She Chased a Street Car.
(Detroit Tribune.)

It was a sure case that she wanted a car—a sporting girl might refer to it as a car—but she could tell by the color and the frantic determination depicted in her countenance as she plowed through the mud toward Griswold street.

She "chased" the car, and when she was in sight before the bus she stopped the car and stood waiting. She wants a car to drive, something more than expert testimony to convince her that there will be another if she misses the bus.

Hugh School Lecture.

G. Wharton James, last night at the Lyceum, gave the first of a series of four lectures before the Duluth public. His treatment of "Memory and its Cultivation" was most interesting and will stimulate many of his hearers to use their retentive powers to better advantage than was not a very fancy celebration. His experiments in class of young boys were very successful, and the audience had a merry time through it all. The chief secret of a ready and retentive memory was shown to be observation, reflection, classification, tellers, Messrs. Moore, Newell and Frasher. It was half-past 2 when J. K. Shaw, chairman of the county committee, took the chair and called the convention to order. The hall was crowded, and everyone seemed disposed to finish up the business in the shortest possible time. After the call was read motions for temporary officers were called for and Simon Clark was chosen temporary chairman and Mr. Strong secretary. On motion a committee to review on credentials was appointed by the chairman as follows: J. A. Grierson, Tower; J. P. Martin, West Duluth; C. O. Baldwin, Lakeside; T. M. Helenski and F. L. Ryan.

After the appointment of the committee, the chair called for a report, which showed that there were no delegations present of the total number allowed by the call. The report of the committee was accepted and the motion carried. Mr. Hudson was then moved to proceed by ballot to elect seven delegates—seven names to be written on each ballot and a majority of votes be required for election.

Before the motion was put Judge Martin asked for an understanding as to what the delegations would do if selected. He received it from Mr. d'Autremont, and stated that West Duluth was entitled to one delegate or two if seven votes were enough to elect them. The remainder of the delegation depended entirely upon the convention.

The motion was carried without a division.

On the chair, approached by tellers, Messrs. Moore, Newell and Frasher, was decided to take an informal ballot. While waiting for the results of the ballot a motion was carried for a committee on resolutions was carried and the following gentlemen were named: J. M. Morris, H. F. Greene, Chas. d'Autremont, T. T. Hudson and C. O. Baldwin.

The final list of delegates to St. Paul was selected on the first ballot: Simon Clark, Morris Thomas, T. T. Hudson, H. F. Greene, J. M. Martin and J. C. Campbell and J. A. Grierson.

IRON PYRITES.
Or a Few Facts Fleeced With Red Hemate.

J. E. Drouillard, the well known mining captain and explorer, is in the range having come down from the range yesterday. Drouillard is working a large force of men on the Charleston properties, and night and day shifts now keep the work going. In Menard, he and his son are on a keg of nails in lieu of a bed. There were 70 "roomers" at Pollock and the other places were crowded full as well. Captain Drouillard left for the mines again and came back with him a steam boiler and mining pumps.

There were 700 men the estimated number of people engaged in mining work within a radius of six miles of Merritt. Outside of the village there are only two towns.

Yesterday's news gave the mischievous miners the right to roost, and only about two weeks more of good hunting remains.

Apropos of the great and pressing need for railroad communication with the mining district a little incident, bearing the name of the city, occurred. The following: Lumber is scarce at Merritt and prices are very high and stocks are very low. A certain party who was putting up a 2-story frame building a large size ran into a kind of lumber rack, and knew that the little lumber had a supply on the road. He got a sight of the invoices, and found that the lumber was delivered to him by a certain company, and after getting the bill of lading, he paid the bill and was all arranged before hand and it was handled in a way which would have surprised a spirit communication medium used to bring him.

The only consequence was that he was compelled to pay a high price for lumber which he had not ordered.

Mr. Potter, of Texas, not the one made famous by Fox & Faust, but George Potter, of Fox & Faust, Texas, arrived yesterday, and he has been a trifle shakey on the silver question and had a staggering hukker after green beans, but he is very pleased with the progress Duluth has made since his last visit.

Mr. L. Andrews, of Chicago, represents the Register Publishing company of Duluth, and is delivering to subscribers copies of the "Advertiser," a business directory of the Northwest. About 350 copies are being circulated in Duluth.

The democratic host of St. Louis county was a little late in gathering itself together at the city hall this afternoon, and when collected was not so large a host after all. But the convention was not of a nature to excite a tremendous amount of enthusiasm, for there was nothing to be done but to elect a delegation of seven to represent the county at the state convention.

The representation is fairly divided between urban and suburbs, and the future is full of hope.
